

140 A.D.

Population of China \approx 48 million

C 140AD

Within a few years of HADRIAN'S (138AD) death, the British/Scotch border was moved 100 mi north of HADRIAN'S wall to ANTONINE'S WALL and set across the narrows of Central Scotland between the estuaries of the Forth and the Clyde.

AD 140-142

185AD

WALL OF ANTONINUS

Roman wall built across from Firth of FORTH to the Firth of Clyde by prefect LOLLIVS URBICUS in the reign of ANTONINUS PIUS. Built as a defense against the peoples of the north,
it had a ditch on the north, 19 feet
along its southern side and was 37 mi.
long. Its construction was similar to Hadrian's wall. It was abandoned
c. 185AD.